2018 Delaware County Public Transit Map and Guide Available

Many Delaware County residents utilize a variety of transportation options offered by SEPTA. To assist residents in understanding the different SEPTA modes of transportation available, the Delaware County Planning Department has issued the 4th edition of the Delaware County Public Transit Map and Guide, as a reference to SEPTA's public transit offerings in Delaware County.

The map depicts all bus, regional rail, trolley, and high-speed rail services in Delaware County and certain routes in neighboring Chester and Montgomery Counties and the City of Philadelphia. It also shows the locations of major employers, social service agencies, colleges and universities, shopping centers, hospitals, state and county government office buildings, business centers and office parks, hotels and motels, senior care facilities, and parks and trails. Detailed inset maps show Media and areas surrounding the Darby, Chester, and 69th Street Transportation Centers.

Also provided is a guide to SEPTA fares and detailed information on Delaware County bus, trolley, high speed line, and regional rail routes, service, and stations. Information includes the frequency of service, the number of car and bicycle parking spaces at rail stations, fare prices, and on-board bicycle policies. Maps are available at County and municipal government offices, libraries, major businesses, colleges and universities, school districts, hospitals, malls, hotels, SEPTA, nursing homes, and senior care facilities within Delaware County.

A PDF version of the map and transit guide are available on the county's website:
