Electric Vehicle Charging Station

Media has an electric vehicle charging station, located in the parking lot behind the Media Firehouse. This spot is dedicated for use by electric vehicle owners only (all others will be towed).

The station was provided to Media and is owned and operated by Community Energy.

Electric car owners can charge at the station for an hourly fee. Hooked up to the "Level II" charging station, most current electric vehicles could top off their batteries from half full in about four hours.
