

Gardening for the Greater Good

Placemaking with horticulture

Jeff Barg | March 21, 2019

PENNSYLVANIA

HORTICULTURAL

Gardening for the Greater Good

agenda

01. Philadelphia Flower Show02. Pop Up Gardens03. Farm for the City04. Philadelphia LandCare

Philadelphia Flower Show

- Started in 1829
- 250,000 annual visitors
- $65 million annual economic impact on the Greater Philadelphia region
- 17 International Festivals & Events Association awards in 2018

Demonstration — Creative Placemaking

Ephemeral — Community Asset

Pop Up Revolution

Farm for the City

Farm for the City

- Funded by Pew Center for Arts & Heritage
- Promoting civic discourse
- The importance of partnerships: Broad Street Ministry and the Department of Public Property
- The benefits of unintended consequences: Hub of Hope

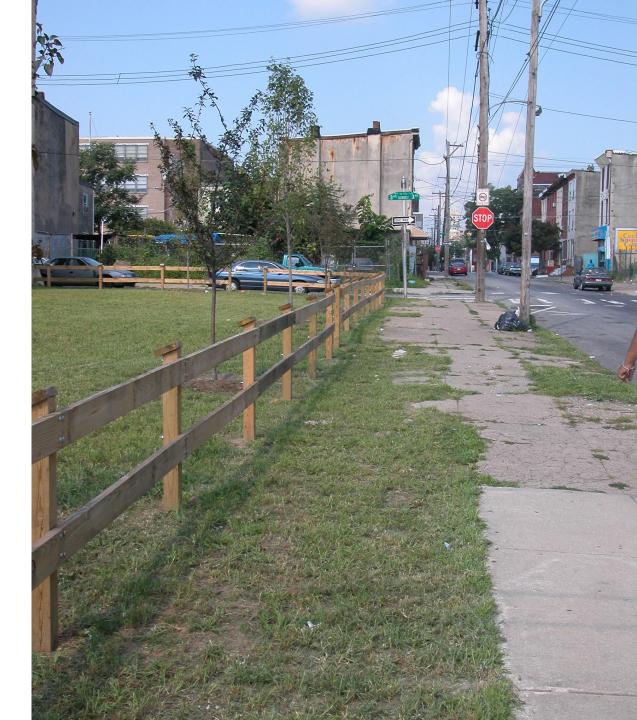

- 12,000 total parcels, 16 million square feet roughly a third of Philadelphia's vacant land
- 18 community organizations, 15 private contractors, 300 local workers, including 40 through the LandCare Re-Entry Initiative
- Participating contractors are 70 percent minorityowned, with an 85 percent minority workforce
- 22 percent of LandCare sites have been developed into new uses
  - 1,050 homes
  - 150 commercial uses
  - 135 green spaces

- 2012 study: $15.3 million spent by the city on the program yielded a total housing gain of $3.5 billion. Every dollar spent increased housing wealth by $224.
- 29 percent decrease in gun violence.
- 41.5 percent decrease in feelings of depression, 63 percent decrease in self-reported poor mental health. In lowest-income neighborhoods, feelings of depression decreased by 69 percent.
- Improved health outcomes, including increased exercise and decreased stress levels.
- Values of nearby homes jump by nearly 20 percent.

Gardening for the greater good.

With an englaged network of members, volunteers and supporters, PHS and our partners work to connect people with horticulture and together create beautiful, healthy and sustainable communities.

People

- 2,407 Garden Tenders trained in building community gardens
- 984 Green City Teachers trained in educating students about horticulture
- 300 Gardening and Greening Contest entrants
- 40 Philadelphia Flower Show exhibitors
- 35 Returning citizens trained or working in horticulture and landscaping in 2018
- 5,043 Tree Tenders trained in planting trees in their neighborhoods
- 3,721 Residential stormwater project recipients
- 21,000 Members

Places and Projects

- 12,000 Vacant lots cleaned and maintained through PHS LandCare
- 18,886 Trees planted by Tree Tenders in Philadelphia since 2003.
- 150 City Harvest community gardens and urban farms
- 44 Neighborhood Gardens Trust (NGT) preserved gardens
- 14 Gardens in the pipeline to NGI preservation
- 141 Junior Flower Shows and Youth Challenge Plants participating schools
- 70 School or youth gardens supported in 2018
- 15 Organically maintained public landscapes
- 2 Pop Up Gardens
- 📕 🤞 Neighborhood Park Stewardship projects
- 180 Tree Tenders groups
- 672 Riparian projects where 141,372 trees have been planted since 2006

thank you

#PHSgardening

@PHSgardening

@PHSgardening

