Description

The County Council ("County Council") of the County of Delaware (the "County"), Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is committed to protecting human rights for all individuals and believes that access to housing, employment, healthcare, and education are fundamental rights to all people in the County. The Pennsylvania Human Relations Act (43 P.S. § 962.1) permits the establishment of Local Human Relations Commissions to assist the County in the goal of prohibiting local discrimination against individuals. The County intends to adopt an Ordinance to establish rules and regulations to address disputes arising out of discrimination. The Human Relations Commission will provide timely and relevant education to the public and organizations and shall be vested with the authority to administer and enforce a local human relations Ordinance once enacted by the County. Members of the Human Relations Commissions shall serve without salary, shall meet monthly, and provide written reports of its work. Elected officials are not eligible to serve on the Commission.
