

2026 Precinct Consolidations in Delaware County: Overview, Maps & Data

January 29, 2026
Delaware County Elections
James P. Allen, Election Director

Overview

Through 2025, Delaware County had 428 precincts to serve approximately 410,000 voters, an average of 958 voters per precinct. Neighboring Montgomery County had 600,000 voters and 428 precincts, an average of 1,400 voters per precinct. Chester County had 380,000 voters and 230 precincts, an average of 1,650 voters per precinct. This disparity in Delaware County is the result of more than 100 Delaware County precincts having extremely low counts of voters. Such “micro-precincts,” in turn, inflated operational costs for: recruiting, training, assigning and retaining poll workers; preparing the election database; printing and testing ballots; programming and testing equipment; trucking expenses; reporting election results; and performing post-election audits. Longer term, these undersized precincts also would add significantly to the capital expenses of replacing election-supply cages, voting equipment and related items such as voting booths.

In 2023 and 2024, Delaware County Elections reviewed the 428 precincts with the goals of:

- identifying precincts that include fractions of the ideal number of voters (1,200 to 2,000 in a precinct),
- finding pairs or trios of adjacent precincts that could be consolidated, and,
- updating the maps to provide better services to voters more efficiently.

For added context, the largest precincts in Delaware County serve 2,000 to 3,300 voters efficiently, and some precincts in Chester and Montgomery counties serve more than 3,300 voters. However, in 2025, Delaware County had 24 precincts with 140-400 voters, and another 197 with 401-900 voters.

In reviewing potential consolidations, considerations included:

- whether the precincts are adjacent,
- whether the precincts have common voting districts: State House, State Senate, Magisterial District Judge, and, where applicable, local municipal ward/district and school district region, and,
- whether the prospective consolidated precincts might already share a polling place or have polling places that are already relatively close to one another.

The consolidation plan was: designed by Election staff; then authorized in January 2025 by the Board of Elections; then pursued through hearings in the Court of Common Pleas in 2025; and then authorized after reviews completed by the Pennsylvania Department of State. Only then, in January 2026, the Board of Elections enacted the consolidations. These consolidations created more precincts that serve 900-1,800 voters.

The maps and data in this report outline the 88 precincts (41 pairs of precincts and two trios of precincts) that the Board of Elections consolidated. Implementation of these consolidations will occur and be in effect at the May 19, 2026 Primary Election.

Of the 88 precincts that were consolidated (41 pairs of precincts and 2 sets of 3 precincts), voters in 78 of the original precincts will continue to vote at same location where they voted in past elections. Voters in the 10 precincts that would change polling places would move to a nearby site, typically 0.2 miles to 0.3 miles from their previous voting site. After consolidations, these 88 precincts are now represented in 43 precincts, allowing for a net reduction of 45 precincts.

Even after these consolidations, Delaware County's new total of 383 precincts will average fewer than 1,100 voters per precinct. That average is still 28% lower than the average precinct size in Montgomery County, and still 48% lower than the average precinct size in Chester County.

In terms of budgetary savings, the reduction of 45 precincts will save more than $100,000 annually in poll worker payroll and training costs alone, as legally fully staffing those 45 precincts requires 220 poll workers (five per precinct). Still more savings will come from having fewer balloting systems/supplies to program, test, ship and document, which impacts staffing costs. Further, at some point when the county will purchase or lease new voting equipment, having 45 fewer precincts will save more than $800,000 based on current voting-equipment costs.

The following pages include maps of Delaware County precinct consolidations that were authorized and enacted by the Delaware County Board of Elections on Jan. 29, 2026 to take effect ahead of the May 19, 2026 Primary Election. Maps in this report were developed by the Delaware County GIS division of the Delaware County Planning Department. The corresponding voting-district data and lists of polling places were prepared by the Delaware County Elections Department.
